Editorial

As we are 'between editors' at the moment, the publishers of H&E naturist have asked me to fill the editorial slot, just for this issue.

As some of our regular readers and advertisers will know, I am Sylvia Smith, H&E's magazine manager, and it's my job to ensure the smooth running of the world's favourite monthly naturist magazine.

So, what does a month in the life cycle of this venerable publication involve?

Well, in addition to the editorial side of things, there is a lot of other work going on in the background which falls to a small but dedicated office team.

Myself and Nicole Fielder are 'front of house', ensuring that we give our advertisers the best possible deal while giving them maximum 'exposure' to all you readers out there.

Our designer, John Clement, has worked for us for more years than I care to remember, not only designing the magazine pages each month, but also going out and about to meet readers, write articles and take photos on a regular basis.

Then we have Amanda Donato, who is responsible for the day-to-day running of our subscriptions and marketing departments. It's she who sources all the books and DVDs that prove so popular in the H&E shop each month.

In overall charge of marketing and subscriptions, along with the website, is Stuart Wright, who is constantly seeking out new innovations and offers to make sure that our subscribers and website members get full value for their money.

And of course, joining us next month will be our new editor, Sam Hawcroft. More from her in the August issue, but in the meantime, it was nice to meet you and I hope you continue to enjoy what the H&E team has to offer for many years to come!
